Introduction:

LB 1055 in 1996 instructed the then Department of Public Institutions to supply to the State Patrol, upon request, identifying information so that the Nebraska State Patrol could comply with the provisions of the The Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act (Pub.L.103–159, 107 Stat. 1536; (18 U.S.C. 921 and 922)). Provisions of Nebraska Revised Statute §69-2409.01 limited the information supplied to whether an individual is disqualified from purchasing or possessing a handgun pursuant to law. In late 1998, the Department launched a data repository consisting of mental health board commitment paper reports mailed to the Department by district court clerks. Those records were shared via spreadsheet with the Patrol on a monthly basis so the Patrol could update the mental health file used to review firearm permit application within Nebraska. A second reporting system also populated the mental health file at the Patrol. That reporting consisted of a listing of admissions to the state psychiatric hospitals who met certain admission standards. The two sets of information were combined by the State Patrol to create a mental health file against which firearm permit requests could be checked. This mental health file was used exclusively in Nebraska to determine persons disqualified for permits under the Brady Handgun Act and state statutes.

In 2009, the development of an automated internet-based reporting system usable by the district court clerks was initiated. In early 2012, through the combined efforts of the Nebraska State Patrol, the Nebraska Office of the Chief Information Officer, and the Division of Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services, planning and implementation of the Electronic Commitment Reporting Application (ECRA) became a reality. The first electronic records for mental health commitments by mental health commitment boards were initiated in November 2012. In April of 2014, records of individuals admitted to the Lincoln, Hastings and Norfolk Regional Centers who met certain conditions for admission were added to the database. With these efforts prohibitor 18 U.S.C. 922 (g) (4) – “Has been adjudicated as a mental defective or has been committed to a mental institution” is substantially fulfilled. Through the combined efforts of the agencies and funds from the National Instant Criminal Background Check System Act Record Improvement Program (NARIP) grant, Nebraska mental health commitment information began to be reported to federal level in late 2013 and continues today. Mental health board commitments and regional center admissions (meeting reporting requirements) are continuously reported and incomplete records continue to be researched and completed.

This report will summarize the number of records submitted, the disposition of those records and answer questions from the Legislature expressed in LB 699 and codified in statute 69-2409.01 section (5).
