The petition, except in cases in which the disciplinary measure was imposed for nonpayment of license renewal fees, shall be accompanied by at least two verified recommendations from practitioners of the profession of the petitioner licensed in the State of Nebraska and by at least two recommendations from citizens each having personal knowledge of the activities of the petitioner since the disciplinary measure was imposed. Each petition shall be accompanied by the requisite information and necessary documents, and must be conclusively acted upon by the board of examiners within one hundred eighty days after the filing of the properly prepared petition and necessary accompanying documents with the board of examiners.

004.03 Denials. The petition shall be considered at the next meeting of the board of examiners that is held not earlier than thirty days after the petition was filed. No public hearing need be held on the petition if the board of examiners recommends reinstatement of the license. Before the board of examiners shall deny a petition for recommendation for reinstatement it must grant an opportunity for a formal hearing thereon if formally requested by the petitioner. Whenever the board of examiners shall deny a petition, it shall notify the petitioner for reinstatement that a formal hearing will be held thereon only if said petitioner submits a written request therefor the board of examiners within twenty days of the receipt of the denial.

Title 172

004.04 Notice of Hearing. If the petitioner formally requests opportunity for a formal public hearing, or if such a hearing is otherwise held, the petitioner shall be given at least thirty (30) days' prior notice thereof by sending a copy of the notice of hearing by means of certified or registered mail directed to the petitioner at his last-known residence or business post-office address as shown by the files or records of the Department of Health or as otherwise known, or by means of personal service by being personally served by any sheriff or constable or by any person especially appointed by the board of examiners. The notice of the formal public hearing shall name the person which shall appear as the petitioner for reinstatement; shall state the time, date, and place of the hearing; and shall state the reason or reasons for the proposed denial of reinstatement.

004.06 Official Record. The board of examiners shall prepare an official record in all petitions for reinstatement hearings, including testimony and exhibits, but it shall not transcribe shorthand notes unless requested for the purpose of a rehearing or judicial review, in which event the transcript and record shall be furnished by the board of examiners upon request and tender of the cost of preparation.

hearing shall be held no later than ninety (90) days after the request therefor.

005.02 Receipt for Filings. If a receipt for filing of any pleading, account, book, document, or paper is desired, letters of transmittal shall be sent in duplicate. One copy showing date of receipt will be returned to the sender.

005.03 Hearing Examiner. Formal hearings shall be conducted by a hearing examiner. The hearing examiner shall be the chairman of the board of examiners.

005.04 Continuances. Any petitioner for reinstatement of licensure who desires a continuance shall, immediately upon receipt of notice of hearing, or as soon thereafter as facts requiring such continuance come to his knowledge, notify the board of examiners, in writing, by letter or telegram, of said desire, stating in detail the reasons why such continuance is necessary. Any such petitioner may be required to submit affidavits in support of such request. For good cause shown, the board of examiners, may grant such a continuance and may at any time order a continuance on its own motion. All requests for continuance shall be filed prior to the hearing involved. Only under exceptional circumstances will requests for continuance of a hearing be considered unless submitted on or before the tenth day prior to the date set for hearing. Any such request subsequent to the opening day of any hearing will be considered only if it involves matters unknown to the petitioner applying prior to said date or other facts, the existence of which would prejudice a hearing and the rights of the petitioner.

005.05 Briefs. Any party desiring to submit a brief concerning the matter presented at any formal hearing may do so by indicating such desire at the close of said hearing. The item and which briefs shall be filed and the number of copies required will be fixed at the close of the hearing by the hearing examiner. Submission of briefs may be required by the board of examiners upon its own motion, or denied in any case.

005.06 Conduct of Hearing. The hearing examiner will, among other things, open the proceedings; enter into the record the notice of hearing; take appearances; act on pleadings not previously filed; hear the evidence as provided for in Subsection 006 and in the order provided in Subdivision 004.05; rule on motions and objections; cross-examine any witnesses; and close the proceedings.

Title 172

005.07 Appearances. Any petitioner may appear in his own behalf before the board of examiners. Any individual may appear on behalf of another only if: (a) he is admitted to practice law before the Nebraska Supreme Court, or (b) he is admitted to practice law before the supreme court of any state and is accompanied by a person admitted to practice law before the Nebraska Supreme Court.

005.08 Argument. Ordinarily opening statement and oral arguments following the close of the presentation of evidence will be permitted only insofar as such statements and arguments relate to the presentation and explanation of evidence. However, the hearing examiner may request or permit policy arguments. The board of examiners will hear oral arguments for rehearing where there is a prior request therefore in writing. Unless otherwise ordered by the hearing examiner, oral argument will be limited to twenty minutes by each separate party.

005.09 Rehearing. Motions for rehearing before the board of examiners shall be filed within ten (10) days after the receipt of the board of examiners' recommendation.

005.10 Appeals. Appeals to the District Court from any recommendation of the board of examiners shall follow the statutory requisites set forth in Section 84-917, R.R.S. 1943.

006 EVIDENCE

006.01 Consideration. Evidence will be received in the following order: (1) Petitioner; (2) Board of examiners; and (3) Rebuttal by petitioner.

006.02 General. The board of examiners may admit and give probative effect to evidence which possesses probative value commonly accepted by reasonably prudent men in the conduct of their affairs. It shall give effect to the rules of privilege recognized by law. The hearing examiner may exclude evidence which is incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, cumulative, or unduly repetitious. However, the petitioner for reinstatement of licensure may request that the board of examiners be bound by the rules of evidence applicable in District Courts by delivering to the board of examiners at least three (3) days prior to the holding of such hearing a written request therefor. Such request shall include the petitioner's agreement to be liable for the payment of costs incurred thereby and upon any appeal or review thereof, including the cost of court reporting services which the petitioner shall obtain for the hearing. All costs of a formal hearing shall be paid by the party against whom a final decision is rendered.

Title 172

006.03 Cross-Examination. In the petition to recommend reinstatement of licensure hearing, each party shall have the right of cross-examination of witnesses who testify.

006.04 Exhibits. When any exhibit consists of three or more pages, each page shall be consecutively numbered at the bottom. Any detailed or complex exhibits consisting of more than three pages or with several distinct parts shall be prefaced with an index.

006.05 Exhibits - Numbered. Each exhibit shall be consecutively marked and numbered.

006.06 Official Files. Any party desiring to introduce into evidence any part or parts of the official files shall obtain copies thereof in advance of the hearing.

006.07 Filing and Serving Exhibits Prior to Hearing. Upon demand by the board of examiners, any petitioner proposing to introduce exhibits into evidence, especially where detailed or complicated exhibits are to be used, shall furnish copies of the exhibits requested to the board of examiners by filing and serving copies of exhibits or other necessary information within a specified time of not less than three (3) days in advance of the hearing in order to enable the board of examiners to study same and prepare cross-examination with reference thereto. Upon proof of demand to furnish and failure to supply the said exhibit, it will be excluded from the hearing unless good and sufficient reason be shown by the petitioner offering the same for failure to furnish or provide said exhibit to the board of examiners demanding the same.

006.08 Documents - Relevant Portions. Relevant portions of books, papers, or documents shall be plainly designated and distinguished from all irrelevant portions before the relevant material may be entered into evidence. Where the irrelevant material in the book, paper or document is voluminous so as to encumber the record, the book, paper or document may be marked for identification and the relevant material read into the record. Upon direction of the hearing examiner, a true copy of the relevant matter may be received as an exhibit in place of the original; PROVIDED THAT, copies are delivered to all parties of record and such parties of record and such parties are afforded an opportunity to examine the original from which the same may have been taken.

006.09 Offer of Copies of Exhibits at Hearing. Parties shall furnish accurate copies of all documentary evidence offered at the hearing to the Official Reporter, if any Official Reporter is required by law at such hearing and to the hearing examiner or the petitioner, as the case may be.

006.10 Evidence Outside the Record. Except as provided in Subdivision 006.11 herein, the board of examiners will not consider factual information or evidence in the determination of any proceeding unless the same shall have been offered and made part of the record in the proceeding.

006.11 Official Notice. The board of examiners may take notice of judicially cognizable fact in any proceeding and in addition may take notice of general, technical, or scientific facts within its specialized knowledge. Parties to a proceeding shall be notified either before or during the hearing, or by reference in preliminary reports or otherwise, of the facts so noticed and shall be afforded an opportunity to contest such facts.

006.12 Evaluation of Evidence. The board of examiners may utilize its experience, technical evidence, and specialized knowledge in the evaluation of evidence presented to it.

006.13 Subpoenas. A subpoena requiring the attendance of a witness will be issued by the chairman of the board of examiners, upon written application of the petitioner, or upon its own motion. Subpoenas for the production of accounts, books, documents, or papers, unless directed by the board of examiners on its own motion, will be issued only upon application in writing by a petitioner stating specifically which accounts, books, documents, or papers are required and the facts expected to be proved thereby. All parties directed to produce such accounts, books, documents, or papers shall furnish and deliver the same at the time and place specified by the board of examiners or to a designated representative. A subpoena issued pursuant to this rule shall be served in the manner permitted by law which shall include service by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested. In the case of disobedience to a subpoena, the board of examiners may invoke the aid of the applicable District Court in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of accounts, books, documents, or papers. Charges for serving a subpoena are to be paid prior to the date set for hearing by the party at whose instance the subpoena is issued.

Title 172

006.14 Witness Fee. Any witness who is subpoenaed and who responds thereto is entitled to the same fee as is paid for like service in the District Courts of Nebraska. Such fee is to be paid by the party at whose instance the witness's testimony is to be taken. Applications made pursuant to Subdivision 006.13 herein for the attendance of a witness shall be accompanied by a certified check or other sound tender with receipt, payable to the order of the witness, and equal in amount to the witness's traveling fee and a fee for one day's attendance at the hearing. Such certified check, or other sound tender with receipt, shall be tendered the witness when the subpoena is served upon him. Additional fees due the witness, if any, shall be paid at the close of the hearing by the party at whose instance the witness is subpoenaed.

When a subpoena is issued at the request of a board of examiners, the witness shall not be entitled to demand his traveling fees and fee for one day's attendance but shall be required to obey the subpoena if, at the time of service upon him, he is furnished a statement prepared by the board of examiners advising him of the rate of travel fees allowable, the fee for each day's attendance pursuant to the subpoena, and that he will be paid at such rates following his attendance.

TITLE 172 PROFESSIONAL AND OCCUPATIONAL LICENSURE

CHAPTER 2 FEES

2-001 SCOPE AND AUTHORITY: These regulations establish fees related to the credentialing of individuals and businesses providing health and health-related services under the Uniform Licensing Law (ULL) and, starting December 1, 2008, the Uniform Credentialing Act (UCA).

The credentialing system includes the entire credentialing infrastructure and the process of issuance and renewal of credentials, examinations, inspections, investigations, continuing competency, compliance assurance, and the credentialing review process.

The fees established by these regulations supersede all other fees adopted and promulgated by the Department for the credentialing of these individuals and businesses.

2-002 DEFINITIONS

Credential means a license, certificate, or registration.

Department means the Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Public Health.

2-003 ADMINISTRATIVE FEES

1. $25 will be retained by the Department from the credentialing fee when a credential is denied or an application is withdrawn. If the credentialing fee is less than $25, the fee is forfeited. Examination fees are not returned.
2. $10 for a duplicate original or reissued credential.
3. $25 for certification of a credential. This includes a certified statement that provides information regarding the basis on which a credential was issued, the date of issuance, and whether disciplinary action has been taken against the credential.
4. $5 for verification of a credential. This includes written confirmation as to whether a credential is valid at the time the request is made.
5. Until December 1, 2008, $25 to place a credential on inactive status. On or after December 1, 2008, there will be no fee for inactive status.

2-004 LICENSEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (LAP) FEE: A $1 LAP fee per year is included in each initial credential and renewal fee listed in 172 NAC 2-010.

2-005 LATE FEES AND REINSTATEMENT FEES UNTIL DECEMBER 1, 2008: The Department will collect:

1. A $25 late fee in addition to the renewal fee to renew a credential within 30 days after the credential's expiration date.
2. A $35 late fee in addition to the renewal fee to reinstate a credential not more than one year after the date of revocation for failure to meet the renewal requirements.
3. A $75 late fee in addition to the renewal fee to reinstate a credential more than one year after the date of revocation for failure to meet the renewal requirements.
4. A $75 fee to reinstate a credential following suspension, limitation, or revocation for disciplinary reasons.

2-006 REINSTATEMENT FEE ON OR AFTER DECEMBER 1, 2008: The Department will collect a reinstatement fee of $35 in addition to the renewal fee to reinstate an expired or inactive credential. There will be no late fees on or after December 1, 2008.

2-007 PRORATION OF CREDENTIALING FEES: When a credential will expire within 180 days after its initial issuance date and the initial credentialing fee is $25 or more, the Department will collect $25 or one-fourth of the initial credentialing fee, whichever is greater, for the initial credential. The credential will be valid until the next subsequent renewal date.

2-008 BASE COSTS, VARIABLE COSTS, AND ADJUSTMENTS: The ULL/UCA requires the Department to determine the cost of the credentialing system by calculating the total of the base costs, variable costs, and certain adjustments to revenue, such as earned interest and collection of administrative, reinstatement, and other miscellaneous service fees. Credentialing fees are the primary source of revenue to cover this cost.

1. Base costs of credentialing are the costs common to all professions and businesses under the ULL/UCA and include:

 - b. Shared operating costs for credentialing activities that are not specific to a particular profession or business such as indirect costs, rent, and utilities;
 - c. Costs related to compliance assurance, including investigative costs, contested case costs, and compliance monitoring;
 - d. Costs of the Licensee Assistance Program;

- e. Capital costs, including office equipment and computer hardware or software, which are not specific to a particular profession or business; and
 - f. Other reasonable and necessary costs as determined by the Department.
2. Variable costs of credentialing are the costs unique to a specific profession or business under the ULL/UCA and include the following:
- a. Per diems which are paid to members of the appropriate board;
 - b. Operating costs that are specific to a particular profession or business, including publications, conference registrations, and subscriptions;
 - c. Costs for travel by members of the appropriate board and employees of the Department related to a particular profession or business, including car rental, gas, and mileage charges but not salaries;
 - d. Costs to operate and administer the Nebraska Center for Nursing, which costs are derived from credentialing fees of registered and practical nurses in accordance with the Nebraska Center for Nursing Act; and
 - e. Other reasonable and necessary costs as determined by the appropriate board or Department.

2-009 CREDENTIALING FEES: The Department, with the recommendation of the appropriate board if applicable, is authorized to establish and collect credentialing fees for:

 - a. Licensure, certification, or registration;
 - b. Add-on or specialty credentials;
 - c. Temporary, provisional, or training credentials; and
 - d. Supervisory or collaborative relationship credentials;

REGULATIONS ESTABLISHING DEFINITIONS OF CONFLICTS OF INTEREST
FOR MEMBERS OF THE BOARDS OF EXAMINERS IN THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS

001 SCOPE OF DEFINITION. As used in these regulations, the term "member of a board of examiners in the health professions" shall mean a member of one of the following: the boards of examiners set forth in the Uniform Licensing Law, Neb. Rev. Stat. 71-112, Board of Nursing, Board of Hearing Aid Instrument Dispensers and Fitters, Board of Registration for Environmental Health Specialists, Board of Advanced Emergency Medical Care, Board of Occupational Therapy Practice, Board of Examiners in Massage, Board of Cosmetology Examiners, and Board of Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioners. Each of the situations described in this section shall be considered a conflict of interest on the part of a member of a board of examiners in the health professions.

001.01 No member of a board of examiners in the health professions shall solicit or accept anything of value, including a gift, loan, contribution, reward, or promise of future employment, for himself or herself, or for a member of his or her immediate family or for a business with which any such individual is associated, based on an agreement that the vote, official action, or judgment of the member of a board of examiners in the health professions would be influenced thereby.

001.02 No member of a board of examiners in the health professions shall use that public office or any confidential information received through the holding of the position of board member to obtain financial gain, other than compensation provided by law, for himself or herself, a member of his or her immediate family, or a business with which any such individual is associated.

001.03 No member of a board of examiners in the health professions shall use personnel, resources, property, or funds under that board member's official care and control, other than in accordance with prescribed constitutional, statutory, and regulatory procedures, or use such items, other than compensation provided by law, for personal financial gain or for the financial gain of a member of his or her immediate family or a business with which any such individual is associated.

001.04 Except as otherwise provided by law, no member of a board of examiners in the health professions, a member of that board member's immediate family, or a business with which any such individual is associated shall enter into a contract valued at two thousand dollars or more, in any one year, with the Department of Health unless the contract is awarded through an open and public process which includes prior public notice and subsequent availability for public inspection during the regular office hours of the Department of Health of the proposals considered and the contract awarded. No contract may be divided for the purposes of evading the requirements of this subsection. This subsection is intended to prevent a member of a board of examiners in the health professions from engaging in certain activities under circumstances creating a substantial conflict of interest and is not intended to penalize innocent persons and a contract shall not be absolutely void by reason of this subsection.

002 RESOLUTION OF CONFLICT OF INTEREST. A member of a board of examiners in the health professions who, in the discharge of his or her official duties, would be required to take any action or make any decision that may cause financial benefit or detriment to him or her, a member of his or her immediate family, or a business with which he or she is associated, which is distinguishable from the effects of such action on the public generally, or a broad segment of the public, shall take the following actions as soon as he or she is aware of such potential conflict of interest, or should reasonably be aware of such potential conflict, whichever is sooner:

002.01 Prepare a written statement describing the matter requiring action or decision and the nature of the potential conflict;

002.02 Deliver a copy of the statement to the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission; and 002.03 Deliver a copy of the statement to the Director of Health.

002.04 The member of a board of examiners in the health professions shall also exercise one or more of the following steps to remove himself or herself from influence over actions and decisions on the matter:

002.04A Refrain from discussion with other board members of those matters on which a conflict exists, or 002.04B Abstain from voting on the matter on which the potential conflict exists whether by voice vote, secret ballot, or any other method.

002.05 This restriction shall not prevent a member of a board of examiners in the health professions from making or participating in the making of a board decision to the extent that the board member's participation is legally required for the action or decision to be made, and no action could be taken by the board of examiners otherwise due to lack of a quorum or other reason. However, in such event the member of a board of examiners in the health professions shall report the occurrence to the Director of Health and to the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission.

003 DISCIPLINARY MEASURES. Any member of a board of examiners in the health professions violating the provisions of subsections 001.01, 001.02 or 001.03 shall be guilty of a Class III misdemeanor pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. §49-14,101, which upon conviction can result in a maximum penalty of three months imprisonment or five hundred dollars fine, or both, with no minimum penalty, pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. §28-106. A contract involving a prohibited conflict of interest under subsection 001.04 shall be voidable pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. §49-14,103. Violation of any of the provisions of section 001 or failure to take any of the steps outlined in section 002 shall constitute malfeasance in office and due cause for action of removal of a member

4-001 SCOPE AND AUTHORITY: These regulations are intended to implement the Nebraska Regulation of Health Professions Act, Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 71-6201 to 71-6229. The Act establishes guidelines for the regulation of health professions which are not regulated and those regulated health professions which seek to change their scope of practice. Credentialing review is the process by which the Act is implemented. These regulations establish standards for the use of criteria by review bodies in recommending whether proposals for regulation or change in scope of practice meet the criteria.

4-002 DEFINITIONS

Applicant group means any health professional group or organization, any individual, or any other interested party which proposes that any health professional group not previously regulated be regulated by the Division or which proposes to change the scope of practice of a regulated profession.

4-003 APPLICATION PROCESS

4-003.01 Letter of Intent: Representatives of applicant groups must submit a letter of intent to the Director which includes the following:

1. The identity of the applicant group;
2. Contact information for the applicant group;
3. A brief summary of the legislative changes being sought;
4. The expected date of completion of the applicant's proposal; and
5. A $500 dollar fee, or if not, a request for waiver of the fee. Such fee is not refundable.

4-003.02 Waiver of the Fee: The Director has discretion of waiving some, or all, of the $500 fee. Circumstances under which a waiver may be granted include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. The applicant group is an agency of local, state, or federal government;
2. Members of the applicant group will not be materially affected by the implementation of the proposed regulation or change in scope of practice; or
3. Payment of the application fee would result in an unreasonable hardship on members of the applicant group.

4-003.03 Review of the Letter of Intent and Applicant Eligibility: The Director must review the letter of intent and respond within fifteen days whether the applicant group is eligible for review, and whether their request for waiver of the fee has been accepted, if such a request was made. If a request for waiver of the fee is denied, the fee must be submitted before any further action on the application can proceed.

4-003.04 Application: After the Director has determined that an applicant group is eligible for review, the applicant group must submit to the Director a complete application.

4-003.04A Completeness of an application: A complete application consists of the following:

1. Identification of the applicant group;
 - a. Name of the applicant group;
 - b. Composition of the applicant group; and
 - c. Relationship of the applicant group to the proposal;

2. Contact information (mailing address, telephone number, e-mail address, etc.) for the applicant group;
3. A description of the proposal, which includes answers to the questions contained in Attachment 1, incorporated herein by this reference; and
4. An explanation of:
 - a. The problem created by not regulating a health professional group not previously regulated or by not changing the scope of practice of a regulated health profession;
 - b. If the application is for the regulation of a health professional group not previously regulated, all feasible methods of regulation, including those methods listed in Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-6222, and the impact of such methods on the public;
 - c. The benefit to the public of regulating a health professional group not previously regulated or changing the scope of practice of a regulated health profession;
 - d. The extent to which regulation or the change of scope of practice might harm the public;
 - e. The type of standards that exist to ensure that a practitioner of a health profession would establish and maintain competency;
 - f. A description of the health professional group proposed for regulation, including a list of associations, organizations, and other groups representing the practitioners in this state, an estimate of the number of practitioners in each group, and whether the groups represent different levels of practice;
 - g. The role and availability of third-party reimbursement for the services provided by the applicant group;
 - h. The experience of other jurisdictions in regulating the practitioners affected by the application, in particular, any experience gained relative to the proposed authority;
 - i. The expected costs of regulation, including (i) the impact registration, certification, or licensure will have on the costs of the services to the public and (ii) the cost to the state and to the general public of implementing the proposed legislation.

4-003.04B Amending or Withdrawing a Proposal: A proposal may be amended only by the applicant group and only with the approval of a majority of the technical review committee members. A proposal can only be amended prior to the public hearing on the proposal. The applicant group may withdraw the proposal at any time.

4-004 TECHNICAL REVIEW COMMITTEE REQUIREMENTS IN REVIEWS INITIATED BY APPLICATION

4-004.01 Each committee shall be chaired by a member of the Board. Board members who serve as committee chairpersons must have no bias, personal or professional regarding the issues under review.

4-004.02 Each committee must be established so that it is fair, impartial, and equitable regarding the issues under review.

4-004.03 No more than one representative of any given health profession may serve on any particular committee.

4-004.04 After an applicant group's proposal has been accepted for review the Director is required to appoint an appropriate committee with the advice of the Board pursuant to the Act.

4-004.05 All technical review committee meetings must be open to the public and must conform to the Nebraska Open Meetings Act.

4-004.06 At least one public hearing must be held during the review process for each proposal at which members of the public are allowed to submit comments to the members of the committee.

4-004.07 Each committee must prepare and submit a report of recommendations on each proposal under review to the Board and the Director.

4-005 DIRECTED REVIEWS

4-005.01 Initiating a Directed Review: The Director and the Chairperson may initiate a directed review after determining that no appropriate applicant group exists.

4-005.02 Technical Review Committee Requirements for directed reviews:

4-005.02A Each committee shall be chaired by a member of the Board. Board members who serve as committee chairpersons must have no bias, personal or professional regarding the issues under review.

4-005.02B Each committee must be established so that it is fair, impartial, and equitable regarding the issues under review.

4-005.02C No more than one representative of any given health profession may serve on any particular committee.

4-005.02D: After initiating a directed review, the Director is required to appoint an appropriate committee with the advice of the Board.

4-005.02E: All committee meetings must be open to the public and must conform to the Nebraska Open Meetings Act.

4-005.02F: At least one public hearing must be held during the review process for each proposal, at which members of the public are allowed to submit comments to the committee.

4-005.02G: In a directed review, the committee must develop a proposal to address the issues defined by the Director and the Chairperson.

4-006 CRITERIA AND STANDARDS FOR A NEW CREDENTIAL: The Nebraska Regulation of Health Professions Act sets out criteria for new credentialing of a health profession. These are professions currently not credentialed but allowed to practice in Nebraska. The review body must determine whether the following criteria are met.

4-006.01 Criterion One: Unregulated practice can clearly harm or endanger the health, safety, or welfare of the public.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that the public is suffering harm or danger, that the harm or danger is clearly and directly attributable to the absence of regulation of the profession, and that this harm or danger is of sufficient magnitude to warrant state intervention.
2. Documentation of harm or danger to the public must be sufficient to demonstrate that the harm or danger is clear, that it is attributable to the lack of regulation of the profession in question. Evaluation of harm or danger is based on the highest level of evidence available.
3. Harm or danger to the public must be clearly, directly, and primarily attributable to the absence of regulation of the profession. Evidence of harm or danger that cannot meet this test must not be considered.
4. Harm or danger to the health, safety, or welfare of the public may occur in physical, emotional, economic, or social contexts.
5. Harm or danger to the public must be of sufficient extent and severity to warrant governmental intervention. A certain level of harm or danger attributable to human error and uncontrollable factors will always occur within any health care field.

4-006.02 Criterion Two: Regulation of the health profession does not impose significant new economic hardship on the public, significantly diminish the supply of qualified practitioners, or otherwise create barriers to service that are not consistent with the public welfare and interest.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that regulating the profession would not, in itself, bring about significant harm or danger to the health, safety, or welfare of the public through the creation of unnecessary barriers to service.

2. Documentation of harm or danger to the public must be sufficient to demonstrate that the harm or danger is clear, that it is attributable to the creation of the separate regulated profession in question, and that it is serious and extensive. Evaluation of harm or danger is based on the highest level of evidence available.
3. Harm or danger to the public may occur in physical, emotional, economic, or social contexts.
4. Evidence supporting the status quo must clearly demonstrate how and why this situation protects the public from harm or danger.
5. Evidence must show the benefits of creating the new regulated health profession clearly to be greater in extent and impact than any harm or danger that would be created.
6. If regulation of the profession would require a scope of practice to be defined, the scope of practice must be coordinated with those of regulated professions to minimize fragmentation of the health care system.
7. Regulation of the profession must not lead to unnecessary limitations on the utilization of personnel by employers or to underutilization of qualified personnel.
8. Regulation of the profession must not result in an unnecessary reduction in competition.

4-006.03 Criterion Three: The public needs assurance from the state of initial and continuing professional ability.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. In order to find that this criterion is met for a profession whose practice is typically autonomous, the review body must determine that the need of the public for this assurance can be demonstrated, that members of the public play an active role in choosing their caregiver, that information about the qualifications of the caregiver is an important element in making that choice, and that currently there is no mechanism that will provide such information as effectively as would the issuance of a State credential.
2. In order to find that this criterion is met for a profession whose practice typically is not autonomous, the review body must determine that the institutional or supervisory structure is inadequate to protect the public from harm, and that the issuance of a State credential to the practitioners of this profession would overcome these inadequacies.

3. Evidence presented must show why a state-issued credential is necessary to allow the public to identify competent practitioners. This is especially significant for professions that already have a strong recognized private system of credentialing.
4. If there is a recognized system of private credentialing, the proposed requirements for obtaining state credentialing must be compared closely to those for private credentialing. If they are essentially identical, there must be compelling evidence to show why such redundancy is in the public interest.
5. Evidence must show that if practitioners are generally supervised by members of other credentialed professions, or if they practice under institutional or similar regulation, it must be demonstrated that such supervision or regulation is not sufficient to protect the public.
6. Evidence must show that members of the public are unable easily to evaluate the qualifications of persons offering the service in question.
7. The review body must evaluate whether the education and training requirements set forth in the proposal are necessary and adequate for safe and effective practice.

4-006.04 Criterion Four: The public cannot be protected by a more effective alternative.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that the credentialing proposal as presented to the review body is an effective remedy to the harm or danger identified, and that no other evident means of dealing with this harm or danger, including the status quo, would provide a more effective alternative.
2. Viable alternatives to this proposal must be identified, if available, in terms of being able to address the same harm or danger as was raised in the applicant proposal.
3. Evidence supporting the proposal must show that its enactment would clearly, specifically, and directly solve or alleviate the problems, including harm or danger to the public, that are used to justify the application.
4. Any and all evident alternatives to the proposal must be evaluated to determine if they might provide the same (or greater) problem-solving potential as the proposal, while being more cost-effective or less restrictive. Alternatives may include different levels or types of state credentialing or regulation of the profession, maintenance of the status quo, and other potential solutions. Reviewers are not limited to evaluating only alternatives presented to them by the applicant group; they must actively seek to identify and analyze potential alternatives whenever they can. The recommendations of the reviewing body must reflect their best assessment of the most likely solution to the problems identified.

5. The costs of the proposal, and of any alternatives considered, must be evaluated.

4-007 CRITERIA AND STANDARDS FOR A PROFESSION NOT CURRENTLY ALLOWED TO PRACTICE IN NEBRASKA: The Nebraska Regulation of Health Professions Act sets out criteria for the regulation of a profession not currently allowed to practice in Nebraska. These are professions currently not credentialed and currently not allowed to practice in Nebraska. The review body must determine whether the following criteria are met.

4-007.01 Criterion One: Absence of a separate regulated profession creates a situation of harm or danger to the health, safety, or welfare of the public.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that the public is suffering harm or danger, that the harm or danger is clearly and directly attributable to the absence of the separately regulated health profession under review, and that this harm or danger is of sufficient magnitude to warrant state intervention.
2. Documentation of harm or danger to the public must be sufficient to demonstrate that the harm or danger is clear, that it is attributable to the absence of the separate regulated health profession in question. Evaluation of harm or danger is based on the highest level of evidence available.
3. Harm or danger to the public must be clearly, directly, and primarily attributable to the absence of the separate regulated profession. Evidence of harm or danger that cannot meet this test must not be considered.
4. Harm or danger to the health, safety, or welfare of the public may occur in physical, emotional, or social contexts.
5. Harm or danger to the public must be of sufficient extent and severity to warrant governmental intervention. A certain level of harm or danger attributable to human error and uncontrollable factors will always occur within any health care field.

4-007.02 Criterion Two: Creation of a separate regulated profession would not create a significant new danger to the health, safety, or welfare of the public.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that any harm or danger that might result from the creation of the separate regulated profession would not be outweighed by the benefits of providing legal access to the profession in question.
2. Documentation of harm or danger to the public must be sufficient to demonstrate that the harm or danger is clear, that it is attributable to the creation of the separate regulated profession in question, and that it is serious and extensive. Evaluation of harm or danger is based on the highest level of evidence available.
3. Harm or danger to the public may occur in physical, emotional, economic, or social contexts.
4. Evidence supporting the status quo must clearly demonstrate how and why this situation protects the public from harm or danger.
5. Evidence must show the benefits of creating the new regulated health profession clearly to be greater in extent and impact than any harm or danger that would be created.
6. If regulation of the profession would require a scope of practice to be defined, the scope of practice must be coordinated with those of regulated professions to minimize fragmentation of the health care system.
7. Regulation of the profession must not lead to unnecessary limitations on the utilization of personnel by employers or to underutilization of qualified personnel.
8. Regulation of the profession must not result in an unnecessary reduction in competition.

4-007.03 Criterion Three: Creation of a separate regulated profession would benefit the health, safety, or welfare of the public.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that creation of a separate regulated profession would likely produce widespread benefits for the public, and that the amount and extent of the benefits would outweigh any possible harm or danger that might be caused by creating this newly credentialed and legalized profession.
2. Documentation of benefits to the public must be sufficient to demonstrate that there is a realistic expectation of their occurrence following enactment of the desired legislation, and that they will be of significant amount and extent. Evaluation of benefits to the public is based on the highest level of evidence available.

3. The extent and amount of benefit to the public must clearly outweigh any potential harm or danger to the public that might be brought about by the creation of a separate regulated profession.
4. Benefits to the public may occur in physical, emotional, economic, or social contexts.
5. The review body must evaluate whether the education and training requirements set forth in the proposal are necessary and adequate for safe and effective practice.

4-007.04 Criterion Four: The public cannot be protected by a more effective alternative. The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that creation of the separately regulated profession would be an effective remedy to the harm or danger identified, and that no other evident means of dealing with this harm or danger, including the status quo, would provide a more effective alternative.
2. Viable alternatives to this proposal must be identified, if available, in terms of being able to address the same harm or danger as was raised in the applicant proposal.
3. Evidence supporting the proposal must show that its enactment would clearly, specifically, and directly solve or alleviate the problems, including harm or danger to the public, that are used to justify the application.
4. Protection of the public must be interpreted as protecting it both from any harm or danger caused by absence of the profession, and from any harm or danger caused by permitting the separate practice of the profession.
5. Any and all evident alternatives to the proposal must be evaluated to determine if they might provide the same (or greater) problem-solving potential as the proposal, while being more cost-effective or less restrictive. Alternatives may include different levels or types of state credentialing or regulation of the profession, maintenance of the status quo, and other potential solutions. Reviewers are not limited to evaluating only alternatives presented to them by the applicant group; they must actively seek to identify and analyze potential alternatives whenever they can. The recommendations of the reviewing body must reflect their best assessment of the most likely solution to the problems identified.
6. The costs of the proposal, and of any alternatives considered, must be evaluated.

4-008 CRITERIA AND STANDARDS FOR A CHANGE IN SCOPE OF PRACTICE OF A REGULATED PROFESSION: The Nebraska Regulation of Health Professions Act sets out criteria for a change in scope of practice of a regulated profession. The review body must determine whether the following criteria are met.

4-008.01 Criterion One: The health, safety, and welfare of the public are inadequately addressed by the present scope of practice or limitations on the scope of practice.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. The review body must determine that at least one of the following is occurring:
 - a. The cost of the services in question is prohibitive for some members of the public under the current limitations on scope of practice.
 - b. Access to the services in question is very difficult for some members of the public under the current limitations on scope of practice.
 - c. The quality of the services in question is adversely impacted under the current limitations on scope of practice.

 - a. Created by the proposed change in scope of practice: and

2. Evaluation of danger is based on the highest level of evidence available.

4-008.04 Criterion Four: The current education and training for the health profession adequately prepares practitioners to perform the new skill or service.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. Analysis of the current education and training must show that it adequately prepares the practitioners in question to perform the new skill or service being proposed in a safe and effective manner.
2. Evidence must be presented to demonstrate that the current education and training is adequately and appropriately accredited.

4-008.05 Criterion Five: There are appropriate post-professional programs and competence assessment measures available to ensure that the practitioner is competent to perform the new skill or service in a safe manner.

The review body must apply the following standards in determining whether this criterion is met:

1. It must be determined that there are such programs in place and that an analysis of these programs shows that they are adequate to ensure that the practitioners in question are able to perform the new skill or service being proposed in a safe and effective manner.
2. Evidence must be presented to demonstrate that these programs comply with acceptable standards.

Such data shall be provided to the department for public health purposes pursuant to rules and regulations of the department. For purposes of this subpart, patient data means any data received or recorded as part of the records maintenance requirements of the Emergency Medical Services Practice Act. When a patient is transferred to a health care facility or another emergency medical service, all available patient care data must be given to the receiving health care facility or emergency medical service.

12-004.09C7 Confidentiality: Medical records must be kept confidential, available only for use by authorized persons or as otherwise permitted by law. Records must be available for examination by authorized representatives of the Department.

12-004.10 Practices and Procedure Standards: Emergency medical service responsibilities include;

1. Each emergency medical service must have a written back-up response plan in the event of their inability to respond to requests for their services. The back-up response plan must:
 - a. List how many times the call activation mode is sounded and the time period between each call if there is no response;
 - b. List the back-up service that must be called no more than ten minutes after the original call activation;
 - c. Be approved by the physician medical director(s) of the initial service and the back-up service.

2. An emergency medical service that anticipates the use of emergency medical responders to transport patient(s) in the event an emergency medical technician, advanced emergency medical technician, emergency medical technician-intermediate or paramedic fails to respond to an emergency call must have:
 - a. Prior written approval of the physician medical director to allow emergency medical responders to transport;

 - (3) Contacting the dispatch center to request the backup service when a scheduled emergency medical technician, advanced emergency medical technician, emergency medical technician-intermediate or paramedic fails to respond. In this event this request will take place within ten minutes of the initial notification;

3. Each emergency medical service that utilizes the use of emergency medical responders to transport patient(s) in the event an emergency medical technician, advanced emergency medical technician, emergency medical technician-intermediate or paramedic fails to respond to an emergency call must submit within 30 days a report for each event to the Department. The regulation defined in 172 NAC 12-004.10 does not prevent the emergency medical service from responding to the scene of an emergency with an emergency response vehicle staffed by an emergency medical responder; however the emergency medical responder cannot initiate transport unless the requirements of 172 NAC 11-009.01C AND 172 NAC 12-004.10 are met.

12-004.11 Licensure Levels That Became Null and Void: Effective March 7, 1999 licensure levels of EMT-A/D, EMT-A/M, EMT-IV, EMT-D and first responder services became null and void. Services with any one or more of these licenses may continue to provide these levels of care with approval of their physician medical director and written protocols directing the provision of these procedures.

12-005 COMPLIANCE INSPECTIONS: Each emergency medical service has the responsibility to be in compliance, and to remain in compliance, with the regulations set out in this chapter.

12-005.01 Initial Inspection: The Department will conduct an initial inspection of an entity seeking to provide emergency medical services within 45 days of receipt of a completed application and prior to the service commencing operations.

12-005.01A The criteria for successful completion of an initial inspection are set forth below:

1. The Department will issue a rating of "Pass/Fail" on an inspection.
2. A rating of "Pass" will be issued when the applicant complies with all of the requirements of 172 NAC 12-004. The applicant will be notified on-site of the outcome of the inspection at the conclusion of the inspection.
3. When a "Pass" rating is received the Department will issue an emergency medical service license.
4. A rating of "Fail" will be issued when the applicant fails to comply with all of the requirements for an emergency medical services license.
5. The Department will conduct a re-inspection within 90 days after the failed inspection.
6. When an applicant receives a "Pass" rating at the time of the re-inspection, the Department will issue an emergency medical service license if all other licensure requirements are met.
7. When an applicant receives a "Fail" rating at the time of the re-inspection, the Department will deny an emergency medical service license.

12-005.02 Continued Compliance Inspections

12-005.02A Self Inspection: An emergency medical service must ensure that it remains in compliance with the requirements as specified in 172 NAC 12-004. This assurance shall be accomplished by a self-inspection and documented by the submission of an Emergency Medical Service Quality Assurance Report.

12-005.02A1 The Emergency Medical Service Quality Assurance Report:

1. Must be submitted prior to the service's license expiration date;
2. Is not required to be completed by an emergency medical service that holds a current certification from the Commission on Accreditation of Medical Transport Systems (CAMTS); and
3. Will fulfill the self-inspection requirement if the service is in full compliance.

12-005.02A2 If the Department determines that the emergency medical service is not in compliance after the emergency medical service submits the Emergency Medical Service Quality Assurance Report, the emergency medical service will be subject to an onsite inspection.

12-005.02A3 Any emergency medical service that fails to submit an Emergency Medical Service Quality Assurance Report will be subject to an onsite inspection.

12-005.02B Onsite Inspections: After the effective date of these regulations, all emergency medical services are subject to an onsite inspection to determine whether an emergency medical service complies with the requirements of 172 NAC 12-004. Any emergency medical service that holds a current certificate from the Commission on Accreditation of Medical Transport Systems (CAMTS) will meet the onsite inspection requirements.

12-005.02B1 Onsite inspections may be conducted:

1. When the Department determines, based upon the criteria specified in 172 NAC 12-005.02A, that the Emergency Medical Service Quality Assurance Report does not fulfill the onsite inspection requirement, a Department inspector must conduct an onsite inspection to determine compliance with the Emergency Medical Services Act and these regulations; or
2. When the Department/Board selects services for inspection;
 - a. The Board may biennially select, in a random manner, a sample of emergency medical services;
 - b. Each emergency medical service selected for onsite inspection must produce documentation that proves that it meets the standards specified in 172 NAC 12-004;
 - c. The Department will notify each selected emergency medical service by mail. Failure to notify the Department of a current mailing address will not absolve the emergency medical service from the requirement of an onsite inspection;
 - d. Within 30 days, each selected emergency medical service will be contacted by a Department inspector to set up an onsite inspection; and
 - e. The results of the inspection will be determined as outlined in 172 NAC 12-005.02C; or

3. For cause: The Department may inspect an emergency medical service to determine violations when any one or more of the following conditions or circumstances occur:
 - a. A complaint alleging violation of the Emergency Medical Services Practice Act or these regulations;
 - b. A complaint that raises concern about patient care, maintenance, operation, or management of the service;
 - c. Change of licensure level, change of transporting level, or when transferring control;
 - d. Failure to submit an Emergency Medical Service quality Assurance Report within 30 days of the due date;
 - e. Submitting incomplete or questionable answers on the Emergency Medical Service Quality Assurance Report.

12-005.02C Results of Onsite or Self Inspections

12-005.02C1 When the Department finds that the emergency medical service fully complies with the requirements of 172 NAC 12-004, the Department will notify the emergency medical service of its compliance within 30 days after the self or onsite inspection.

12-005.02C2 When the Department finds that the licensee does not fully comply with the requirements of 172 NAC 12-004, but the nature of the violations do not create an imminent danger of death or serious physical harm to the patients of the emergency medical service, the Department may send to the emergency medical service a letter requesting that the violation(s) be corrected. The letter must include:

1. A description of each violation;
2. A request that the emergency medical service correct the violation(s) within 20 working days;
3. A request that the emergency medical service send a letter to the Department outlining how each deficiency will be corrected; and
4. A notice that the Department may take further disciplinary action if the violation(s) are not corrected.

12-005.02C3 The letter submitted by an emergency medical service must indicate any steps that have been or will be taken to correct each violation and the estimated time when each correction will be completed. Based on the letter, the Department will take one of the following actions:

1. If the emergency medical service submits and implements a letter that indicates a good faith effort to correct the violations, the Department will notify the licensee of the acceptance of the letter and may re-inspect; or
2. If the emergency medical service fails to submit and implement a letter that indicates a good faith effort to correct the violations, the Department may initiate disciplinary action against the emergency medical service license.

In the therapeutic relationship, licensees are aware of the intimacy and responsibilities inherent in the therapeutic relationship and must avoid actions that seek to meet their personal needs at the expense of the client. The scope of assignment or direction may vary depending on the level of judgment required for the task, treatment, or intervention, the knowledge and skills of the unlicensed person, the method and frequency of supervision, and the client/patient's condition, ability and willingness to be involved in the management of his/her own care.

29-005.01A A licensed chiropractor/chiropractic physician retains accountability for the application of the chiropractic service when making the decision to assign or direct chiropractic tasks, treatments, or interventions and for the adequacy of client/patient care and outcomes related to the assignment or direction decision.

29-005.01B Although unlicensed persons may be used to complement chiropractors/chiropractic physicians in the provision of chiropractic care, these persons cannot be used as a substitute for a licensed chiropractor/chiropractic physician.

29-005.01C A licensed chiropractor/chiropractic physician must assign or direct unlicensed persons in a manner that allows for safe, accountable, and responsible provision of chiropractic care.

29-005.04 An unlicensed person as assigned or directed by a chiropractor/chiropractic physician may participate in the implementation of a plan of care for clients/patients by the performance of non-complex tasks, treatments, or interventions. 3. The expected result of the task, treatment, or intervention; and
4. The unexpected results or potential complications of the task, treatment, or intervention, including the method and time lines for communicating this to the chiropractor/chiropractic physician.

29-005.06 A licensed chiropractor/chiropractic physician may provide direction to unlicensed persons or assign tasks, treatments, or interventions to unlicensed persons through either direct or indirect supervision or a combination of both.

29-005.06A Indirect supervision can be provided through protocols and periodic inspection and evaluation in combination with plans of care.

29-005.06A1 Indirect supervision is appropriate when client/patient conditions are stable and/or predictable, and the client/patient is competent to make informed decisions and provide necessary information relative to the tasks, treatments, or interventions.

TITLE 172 - NEBRASKA DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES REGULATION AND LICENSURE - CREDENTIALING DIVISION REGULATIONS

CHAPTER 30 - REGULATIONS DEFINING AND GOVERNING THE USE OF ROUTINE
PROCEDURES BY CHIROPRACTORS

001 Scope. A chiropractic practitioner who accepts a patient for any professional reason has a duty and responsibility to perform an appropriate clinical evaluation on that patient for the purpose of assessing the patient's current health status to identify if the patient is a proper subject for chiropractic care. Such a clinical evaluation may involve diagnostic procedures which aid in arriving at a clinical impression. The diagnostic procedures may include urine and blood analysis.

The role of clinical laboratory diagnosis in chiropractic has evolved since the inception of the profession to where currently, laboratory diagnosis courses are taught at all accredited chiropractic colleges.

The chiropractic practitioner, as a portal of entry health care provider, has the responsibility to perform an appropriate clinical examination for the purpose of assessing a patient's current health status to identify if the patient is a proper subject for chiropractic care. The clinical laboratory can provide useful information when the findings from the clinical examination are insufficient to answer the questions at hand. The decision to order a test is made on the assumption that the results will appreciably reduce the uncertainty surrounding a given clinical question and significantly change the pre-test probability that a disorder is present. Clinical laboratory procedures listed in section 003 of these regulations may be ordered or performed by chiropractors. All clinical laboratory tests ordered or performed shall be in concordance with the premises set forth in section 002 of these regulations.

002 Premises.

002.01 The purpose for using clinical laboratory procedures in chiropractic practice is for diagnosis and potential referral.

002.02 The practitioner should select only those clinical laboratories that meet federal accreditation standards.

002.03 The practitioner who performs office laboratory procedures carries out testing in a manner which meets state and/or federal regulations, and is consistent with quality laboratory practice.

002.04 The practitioner makes sure the patient is adequately prepared for laboratory testing by verifying that the patient understands any special instructions to assure adequate specimens necessary to generate valid laboratory results.

002.05 The practitioner assures that in-office laboratory specimens are appropriately collected and preserved.

002.06 Laboratory procedures may be appropriate when the information available from the history and chiropractic examination is considered insufficient to conclude that the patient's presenting condition(s) can be addressed by chiropractic care.

002.07 The practitioner selects a laboratory test(s) appropriate for the purpose of ruling out a specific condition(s) or confirming a strong clinical suspicion by considering the sensitivity and specificity of the test(s) and estimating the likelihood of the condition(s) based on his or her assessment of the available clinical information.

002.08 The practitioner has an understanding of conventional laboratory reference values in order to appropriately interpret laboratory results.

002.09 The practitioner effectively discusses with the patient the purposes, possible complications, and clinical significance of the results of laboratory studies conducted or ordered.

002.10 Clinical laboratory results are recorded in the patient record.

002.11 The practitioner seeks medical assistance when uncertain about appropriate test selection, patient preparation, and/or interpretation of laboratory results.

002.12 The use of profiles which focus on an organ system and/or health problem in a symptomatic patient can be considered a cost-effective and efficient procedure for generating appropriate laboratory data to help confirm or rule out a diagnosis or clinical impression.

002.13 Novel or non-conventional applications of established laboratory procedures, e.g., the use of cytotoxic testing for food allergies or Reams testing and interpretation of urine, are not used in chiropractic practice as a substitute for conventional applications of laboratory procedures in the clinical decision-making process.

003 Routine Clinical Laboratory Procedures. For the purpose of these regulations, routine clinical laboratory procedures appropriate for chiropractic practice which may be ordered and/or performed by chiropractors shall include the following:

- 003.01 Routine Urinalysis
- 003.02 Complete Blood Count with or without differential
- 003.03 Erythrocyte Sedimentation Rate
- 003.04 Biochemical Profiles including tests listed in this section
- 003.05 Blood Glucose
- 003.06 Serum Urea Nitrogen and Creatinine
- 003.07 Serum Calcium
- 003.08 Serum Inorganic Phosphorus
- 003.09 Serum Total Protein and Albumin
- 003.10 Serum Cholesterol
- 003.11 Serum Alkaline Phosphatase
- 003.12 Serum Prostate-Specific Antigen
- 003.13 Serum Aspartate Aminotransferase
- 003.14 Serum Creatine Kinase
- 003.15 Thyroid Screens including T3, T4, and TSH-HS (sTSH)
- 003.16 Serum Uric Acid
- 003.17 Rheumatoid Factor
- 003.18 Anti-Nuclear Antibody Test
- 003.19 HLA-B27 Test
- 003.20 C-Reactive Protein Test
- 003.21 Serum Potassium Test
- 003.22 Serum Sodium Test
- 003.23 Serum Iron and Total Iron-Binding Capacity Test
- 003.24 Fecal Occult Blood Test

3. The owner or manager of a facility whose license has been placed on inactive status must appear before the board and the department to show cause why the department should not ask the Attorney General to initiate steps to revoke the license. The department may, as a result of such appearance, grant additional time for corrective action to occur, but the facility may not operate during such time. The facility may not return to operation until it has achieved a satisfactory rating on an inspection.

45-007.02C Failure to permit an inspection for the purposes set out in 172 NAC 45-007.01 and 45-007.03 is grounds for denial of an initial body art facility license or for suspension of a body art facility's existing license.

45-007.03 Renewal (Routine) Inspection – Purpose and Review Time: The Board or its agent will conduct an on-site inspection of each body art facility.

45-007.03A The inspection will be unannounced and it will occur at least every 4 years.

1. When a body art facility receives a rating of unsatisfactory, it must submit evidence to the department within 15 days providing proof of corrective action taken. A repeat inspection will be conducted within 60 days after the original inspection to determine if corrective action has occurred. The department may assess a fee for each repeat inspection required.
2. If the facility receives an unsatisfactory rating on the repeat inspection, or if evidence is not submitted within 15 days, the license will immediately be placed on inactive status pending action by the department, and the facility may not operate in any manner while its license is inactive.
3. The owner or manager of a facility whose license has been placed on inactive status must appear before the board and the department to show cause why the department should not ask the Attorney General to initiate steps to revoke the license. The department may, as a result of such appearance, grant additional time for corrective action to occur, but the facility may not operate during such time. The facility may not return to operation until it has achieved a satisfactory rating on an inspection.

45-007.04C Failure to permit an inspection for the purposes set out in 172 NAC 45-007.01 and 45-007.03 is grounds for suspension of a body art facility's existing license.

3. Cremated immediately. If visitation is to occur prior to cremation, the body must be thoroughly and promptly embalmed and held in isolation from the public for a period of 24 hours following the embalming.

This rule does not prohibit a public funeral, nor does it relieve persons who are quarantined as contacts from quarantine requirements.

Persons who have died due to a communicable disease other than those listed in 173 NAC 1-004.01 require no further special handling.

68-006.02 Out-of-State Transportation: In case a body is to be transported out of the state of Nebraska, the Nebraska Funeral Director and Embalmer in charge of the body must determine the regulations governing the transportation of bodies in the other state, or states, and must comply fully with the requirements of such regulations, must oversee the removal while the body is in Nebraska, and must comply with the requirements under 172 NAC 68, and with the Interstate Commerce Commission's requirements for transportation by common carrier.

68-006.03 In-State Transportation of Bodies

1. Un-Embalmed Bodies:
 - a. Dead human bodies, which have not been embalmed, must not be transported by common carrier. Transportation may be made by privately owned conveyance under the supervision and responsibility of a licensed Funeral Director.
 - b. In the event the body is placed immediately after death in a body transfer case or shipping case that is constructed out of 20 gauge steel and is hermetically sealed, the body may be transported, in the same manner as an embalmed body.
2. Embalmed Bodies: There are no additional restrictions to the transportation of embalmed bodies other than those contained in the existing Nebraska statutes, provided the body is embalmed by arterial and cavity injection using current accepted practices and chemicals.
 - a. Exception: In the event the remains are to be sent to the State Anatomical Board, cavity work should be avoided when possible.

68-006.04 General Rules Relating to Embalmed Bodies, Un-Embalmed Bodies and Final Disposition of Dead Human Bodies.

68-006.04A Un-Embalmed Body: An un-embalmed body may be retained in storage at a constant temperature of less than 40 degrees Fahrenheit for not more than 96 hours from receipt of the deceased body. An un-embalmed body may be retained in storage beyond the 96 hours if:

2. Upon receipt of a court order.

When such a body is removed from storage it must be embalmed, buried, or cremated within 24 hours following the removal from storage.

68-006.04B Embalmed: Final disposition of a dead human body, which has been embalmed, must be made within 30 days after death. If death did not occur in Nebraska, final disposition of a dead human body must be made within 30 days after receipt of the dead human body.

1. Exception: If unforeseen circumstances occur which would prevent final disposition of a dead human body within the required 30 days after death, the license holder must request special permission from the Director of the Division of Public Health to extend the final disposition date.
 - a. To attain special permission, the license holder must submit a written request to the Division, stating the following:
 - i. Name of Funeral Establishment and license holder overseeing the final disposition;
 - ii. Name of the deceased;
 - iii. Date of death of the deceased; and
 - iv. An explanation of the basis for extending the final disposition, such as but not limited to: family dispute, criminal investigation, military burial, shipments outside of the United States, or similar acts.

or rules and regulations, the Department may send a letter to the crematory authority requesting a statement of compliance. The letter will include a description of each alleged violation, a request that the crematory authority submit a statement of compliance within 10 working days, and a notice that the Department may take further action if the statement of compliance is not submitted. The statement of compliance must include any actions by the crematory authority which have been or will be taken and the period of time estimated to be necessary to correct each alleged violation.

3. If the crematory authority fails to submit such statement of compliance or fails to make a good faith effort to correct the alleged violations, the Department may take further action as provided in Neb. Rev. Stat. §§ 71-1366 to 71-1369.

2. No crematory authority will make or enforce any rules requiring that human remains be placed in a casket before cremation or that human remains be cremated in a casket. No crematory authority will refuse to accept human remains for cremation if the human remains are not in a casket.
3. No crematory authority will accept human remains for cremation unless the human remains are delivered to the crematory authority in an alternative container or casket or delivered to the crematory authority's holding crematory to be placed in an alternative container or casket. Human remains delivered to a crematory in an alternative container must not be removed from the alternative container, the container must not be opened by the crematory authority and the alternative container must be cremated with the human remains.

69-007.02B A crematory authority may refuse:

1. A noncombustible casket or any other container that is not an alternative container; or

2. A casket or container that is not labeled as required under 172 NAC 69-007.02A, item 1.

The authorizing agent must take all necessary steps to ensure that any such hazardous implant or condition is removed or corrected prior to cremation. If an authorizing agent informs the funeral director and the crematory authority on the cremation authorization form of the presence of such potentially hazardous implant or condition in the human remains, the funeral director must ensure that all necessary steps have been taken to remove or correct the implant or condition before delivering the human remains to the crematory.

A funeral director who knowingly fails to ensure the removal or correction of the hazardous implant or condition prior to delivery and who knowingly delivers such human remains shall be liable for any damages resulting from such failure. If human remains with hazardous implants or conditions are in the custody of a crematory authority, such authority must have the hazardous implants or conditions removed or corrected by a licensed funeral director and embalmer or a licensed embalmer at a funeral establishment within an embalming preparation room or at a medical facility by appropriate medical personnel.

2. No human remains will be cremated with the knowledge that the human remains contain jewelry or other valuables. The authorizing agent must take all necessary steps to ensure that any jewelry or other valuables are removed prior to cremation. 69-007.04A Crematories with Holding Facilities: The body may be delivered to the crematory without an alternative container or casket; however, the body must be delivered directly to the holding facility for placing the body in the alternative container or casket. The holding facility must:

1. Comply with all applicable public health law;
2. Provide for the health and safety of persons employed at the facility;
3. Prevent unauthorized access to the facility;
4. Be large enough to hold a casket and be able to transport the body from cot to container;
5. Be out of the public's view (except family may view); and
6. Be clean, safe and secure.

69-007.04B Crematories Without Holding Facilities: If a crematory does not have a holding facility, the crematory must cremate the body immediately and the body must have been delivered to the crematory in an alternative container or casket.

69-007.04C Refuse to Accept: A crematory authority may refuse to accept for holding an alternative container or casket if there is evidence of leakage of body fluids of the human remains.

2. No more than one person must be simultaneously cremated within the same cremation chamber unless the crematory authority has received specific written authorization from the authorizing agent for the human remains to be cremated.

69-007.06 Handling of Remains Following Cremation: The crematory operator must adhere to the following procedures for handling remains following cremation:

1. The recoverable residue of the cremation must be moved from the cremation chamber and any foreign matter or anything other than bone fragments removed from the cremation chamber and disposed. The remaining bone fragments must be pulverized. This does not apply when there was commingling of human remains during cremation as authorized. The presence of incidental and unavoidable residue in the cremation chamber from a prior cremation does not violate this section.
2. The cremated remains with proper identification must be placed in a temporary container or permanent container selected or provided by the authorizing agent. The cremated remains must not be contaminated with any other object unless specific written authorization to the contrary has been received from the authorizing agent.
3. If the entirety of the cremated remains will not fit within a temporary container or permanent container, then the remainder of such remains shall be returned to the authorizing agent or his or her representative in a separate container with proper identification.
4. If the cremated remains are to be shipped, the temporary container or permanent container shall be packed securely in a suitable shipping container that complies with the requirements of the shipper. Unless otherwise directed in writing by the authorizing agent, cremated remains must be shipped only by a method which includes an internal tracking system and which provides a receipt signed by the person accepting delivery of such remains.

69-007.07 Disposition of Cremated Remains: A crematory authority must adhere to the following procedures for the disposition of cremated remains:

1. The delivery of the cremated remains to the authorizing agent or his or her representative will constitute final disposition. If, after a period of 60 days after the date of cremation, the authorizing agent or his or her representative has not directed or otherwise arranged for the final disposition of the cremated remains or claimed the cremated remains for final disposition as provided in this section, the crematory authority or the funeral establishment in possession of the cremated remains may dispose of the cremated remains after making a reasonable attempt to contact the authorizing agent or his or her representative. This method of disposition may be used by any crematory authority or funeral establishment to dispose of all cremated remains in the possession of a crematory authority or funeral establishment.
2. Cremated remains must be delivered or released by the crematory authority to the representative specified by the authorizing agent on the cremation authorization form. The crematory authority of the crematory authority or his or her representative and the party receiving the cremated remains must sign a cremated remains receipt form. If the cremated remains are shipped, a form used by the shipper under subsection (4) of Neb. Rev. Stat. § 71-1381 may be used in lieu of a completed cremated remains receipt form if the shipper's form contains the information required for a cremated remains receipt form. Both the party delivering such remains and the party receiving such remains shall retain a copy of the cremated remains receipt form or shipper's form. Upon delivery, the cremated remains may be further transported within this state in any manner without a permit.

69-007.08 Disputes Regarding Cremation: The crematory authority must adhere to the following procedures when there is a dispute regarding cremation:

1. If a crematory authority or funeral establishment (a) is aware of any dispute concerning the cremation of human remains or (b) has a reasonable basis to believe that such a dispute exists or to question any of the representations made by the authorizing agent with respect to such remains, until the crematory authority receives a court order that a dispute with respect to such remains has been settled, the crematory authority or funeral establishment may refuse to accept such human remains for cremation or to perform a cremation of such remains.
2. If a crematory authority or funeral establishment is aware of any dispute concerning the release or disposition of cremated remains, the crematory
