Isolation (in-home isolation) and contact tracing are essential. If you are symptomatic, please call your healthcare provider or 911 immediately. If you have been exposed to someone with COVID-19, please isolate at home for 10 days. The CDC recommends booster shots, especially for people over 50 and those with underlying conditions. For more information, visit www.netracing.org.

Positive (symptomatic) Isolation -
Isolation (in-home isolation) and contact tracing are essential. If you have been exposed to someone with COVID-19, please isolate at home for 10 days. The CDC recommends booster shots, especially for people over 50 and those with underlying conditions. For more information, visit www.netracing.org.

Negative (asymptomatic) Isolation -
Isolation (in-home isolation) and contact tracing are essential. If you have been exposed to someone with COVID-19, please isolate at home for 10 days. The CDC recommends booster shots, especially for people over 50 and those with underlying conditions. For more information, visit www.netracing.org.

Isolation (in-home isolation) and contact tracing are essential.